Evaluation of the Instructional Program

The Board expects its faculty and administration regularly to evaluate the educational program. Such evaluation may lead to recommendations for modifications of practice, changes in content and new courses.

After planning by the faculty and approval by the administration, new courses will be presented to the Board for its approval.

Normally, new courses will be introduced on an experimental basis and will be evaluated at least annually by the Board.

When the administration considers that an experimental course should become a regular part of the curriculum, such a recommendation will be presented to the Board for adoption.
